privacy policy for authors

You have been redirected here at your attempt to submit a paper for possible publication in the International Journal of Applied Mathematics and Computer Science (AMCS).

We would like to let you know the details of how we deal with your personal data.

1. Your data are acquired upon the submission of a paper to our online system at https://www.amcs.uz.zgora.pl/?action=submission.
2. The submission of the data is voluntary, but indispensable for proposing your paper for possible publication in our journal.
3. The data registered in our online service include the following items (some mandatory, some optional): first name, last name, co-author's name, organization, department, street, ZIP/postcode, city, country, phone, fax, email, as well as paper title, paper abstract and paper file. Most of these are also included in the paper file as the affiliation details required for all authors.
4. The details provided online upon submission are used in the process of paper evaluation and possible publication. They are known fully to the editorial staff, while the reviewers see your name and those of the co-authors (if provided), and have access to the affiliation details included in the paper file.
5. Upon possible paper acceptance, you will be asked to provide some further financial information when processing page charges.
6. Upon possible paper publication, the names and affiliation details of all paper authors as given in the paper file will also be made publicly available in the print version of our journal, on our website and in the abstracting/indexing services featuring AMCS.
7. The AMCS online service is available through a secure connection only, always with a valid certificate.
8. We use cookies that only contain a reference to a session stored on the web server. No information is stored in the user's browser and this cookie can only be used by the current web site.
